Inspired by a peace group in France, a coalition of peace organizations in New York City will be gathering outside the main branch of the New York Public Library for an "Empty Chair Public Witness." November 30 is the first day of the first Review Conference on the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons at the UN. 101 nations from around the world have ratified or signed the Treaty. International law outlaws these weapons of mass destruction. The empty chairs represent the nine nuclear weapons states — U.S., Russia, France, China, the UK, Pakistan, India, Israel, North Korea — that will be absent from the Review Conference.

Join the call to Abolish Nuclear Weapons!
